

CONSIGNMENT INTERN

HULA is a consignment space committed to extending the life of designer pieces, making fashion more accessible at up to 95% off the retail price.

Since 2017, HULA has grown from an online shop to two brick-and-mortar locations in Hong Kong, offering curated designer items sourced from a community of die-hard fashionistas and industry insiders.

Responsibilities:

- Assist with inflow of inventory, organising collections and schedule returns
- Help to curate what comes in looking at style, quality and authenticity
- Help organise transportation, packing and transfer of inventory
- Assist with studio; steaming, tagging, organising products for shooting
- Help check authenticity and use the authentication device
- Work on company technology such as any communications apps and RFID inventory tools
- Occasionally to be hands-on to lift heavy bags of inventory etc
- Help manage inventory tagging / transfers etc

To have the following attributes:

- To have knowledge of high end fashion brands
- To be organised and tidy
- To be hands-on and be able to work in a team
- To have some knowledge of working on Microsoft Office and be digitally-minded
- To be careful and trustworthy, be able to handle high end fashion products
- To have a positive, can-do attitude

Job Details

- 3-5 days per week (can be flexible)
- Min 3 months duration
- Location: Head Quarry Bay warehouse
- General office hours: 11am - 7pm weekdays (occasional weekends may be required)
- Paid internship

Applications

- Interested parties please email your application with full resume, earliest date available, contact telephone number to Fiona@thehula.com or Yuki@thehula.com
- For more details, please visit <https://thehula.com/>